Game of Dice is one of the most popular free multiplayer online games available on the web. Each time you make a move, you get a chance to roll the dice to be randomly assigned to the opponent. The newest version of the popular 3D dice games has a modern look, and it is easy to set-up and play. Game of Dice Features: * Number of players* Multiple rounds of play* Multiple dice types* Customizable and configurable* More than 1.2 billion possible ways to play* Statistics* Settings module and chat* The game is supported by Game of Dice in-browser, and Game of Dice iOS and Android applications A session based game that allows players to connect and play over a one player relay server. The winner of the competition gets points that are tallied to determine the winner. The player, who has the most points after the competition concludes, gets to be the winner. The game works like a battle to see who scores more points during the session. There is no need for other participants as such. It is meant for one player only. Players can lose points whenever an opponent throws a dice. The challenge for the player is to stay in the game and try and prevent the opponent from having a higher score by catching the dice. If you are not familiar with dice-rolling games, it is important to know that a successful catch gives players a point, while a failed catch, nothing. You can play the game using a one dice or a one pair dice, however, there is no need to differentiate between the two types of dice. The player can use any of the dice, i.e. regular, three, four, six, double, triple, fives, eight or ten, on which he likes to
