Dichomeris idaea Dichomeris idaea is a moth in the family Gelechiidae. It was described by Walsingham in 1897. It is found in Peru. The wingspan is about 11 mm. The forewings are pale dull yellowish, with three faint longitudinal blackish lines, the first running from the base of the costa to the base of the fold, the second along the fold, curved inwards, almost reaching it, the third from the middle of the costa to the costal extremity.

There is a series of blackish marginal dots along the margin.

The hindwings are pale grey, with the posterior margin greyish. References
