Due to the potential for severe food and feed safety problems associated with the wide occurrence of antibiotic residues, high performance liquid chromatography combined with gas chromatography mass spectrometry (GC-MS) is commonly used for their determination in food and feed. In a recent study, we reported the implementation of a fast gas chromatography method for the identification of 16 intact antibiotics in fish muscle extracts with a limit of quantification (LOQ) of 0.05 µg kg(-1) in a single GC-MS analysis using on-column extractive chemical derivatization. In this paper, we focus on the optimization of the GC-MS operating conditions for the detection and confirmation of the target antibiotics. A five-step procedure is proposed and optimal conditions established with respect to the type of purge gas, the flow rate and helium to nitrogen ratio, the temperature of the injector port, the injection volume, the purge pressure, the limit of detection (LOD), the recoveries for antibiotics, and the instrumental and sample matrix interferences. The detection limit obtained in this study was near the MRLs of these antibiotics and allowed a complete optimization of the method without compromising the LODs. The performance characteristics of the method for the major antibiotics studied are reported. Finally, a successful validation of the method according to Commission Decision 2002/657/EC was achieved.Q: appendModel in ModelWithStates never seems to get applied I created a simple Widget using the snippet provided by Ember 2.0 Beta. But the state of the widget is not updated when you change the {{model.foo}}. I created a JSBin with a js-version of it, you can find it here: Is this a bug or am I not doing it right? Thanks A:

The callback function receives two arguments, the jqXHR (in jQuery 1.4.x, XMLHttpRequest) object and a string describing the status of the response. Note: If an exception occured, this callback will be called with a status of 0 and the error. Try to return a JSON (here is another question about how you can do it): * def myJSON = { "status": "200", "data": {"something": "here"} } * format = response * return myJSON i) { *out = *in if in.Operations!= nil { in, out := &in.Operations, &out.Operations *out = make([]OperationType, 6d1f23a050
